Williams Scotsman Promotes Joseph Vecchiolla
Mid-Atlantic Regional Vice President

Strengthens Company's Foundation for the Growth and Customer Service in Mid-Atlantic U.S.

Baltimore, MD – February 22, 2005 - Williams Scotsman announces the recent promotion of Joseph Vecchiolla to Regional Vice President of its Mid-Atlantic Region. Vecchiolla will be responsible for new business activity, customer relationship development, and overall performance for the company's Mid-Atlantic region. The region, which extends from Delaware south to the North Carolina border and west to Illinois, encompasses 17 branches and employs nearly 200 people.

“Joe brings a wealth of business and industry experience to our field organization. We have an excellent foundation in the Mid-Atlantic Region and we're excited to have Joe join our team to elevate our business to new levels of success,” according to Joe Donegan, Executive Vice President of Field Operations for Williams Scotsman.

“Williams Scotsman has built a strong reputation by investing in its people, its customers and its products and services. We plan to build on this great tradition and create exciting value-added opportunities for our customers and employees alike,” said Vecchiolla.

For the past three years, Vecchiolla has been Williams Scotsman's Vice President of Marketing and Business Development. Vecchiolla also serves as a member of the board of directors for The Modular Building Institute. Prior to his tenure at Williams Scotsman, Vecchiolla founded and managed a full service advertising agency.

About Williams Scotsman

Williams Scotsman, Inc., headquartered in Baltimore, Maryland, is the leading national provider of mobile and modular building solutions for the Construction, Education, Commercial, Health Care and Government markets. The company serves over 25,000 customers, operating a fleet of nearly 100,000 mobile offices and storage units that are leased through a network of more than 90 locations throughout North America.
